

GUINEA BULLETIN

Here we are at the halfway mark of the year and our next show has come around for July. Due to Covid and travel issues our judge has had to be changed and fingers crossed that we will soon be able to get a mainland judge over again for you to show under.

I'm looking forward to seeing everyone at our show and enjoyed seeing everyone at the pet show last month. Well done to the committee for such a great show.

Please let me know what else you would like to see in our newsletter as I'm always happy to have input into what our members would like to read or hear about.

See you all soon

Emily

Feeding Your Cavy

Did you know? The average weight of food, eaten daily by a cavy/guinea pig is 28-32 grams and the average water consumption is 150mls.

Cavies will eat grass, vegetables and fruit as well as hay, chaff pellets, flakey bran and grains.

Make sure fresh cool clean water is always available.

Cavies require a regular source of Vitamin C as they do not produce any of their own like humans do. Without this regular source of Vitamin C they will suffer from scurvy and can die a painful death. Vitamin C is available from fresh grass, fruit and vegetables.

Below is a list of some of the fresh foods that cavies can be fed.

Thistles	Parsnips	Celery
Cabbage	Carrots	Apples
Dandelions	Beetroot	Oranges
Couch Grass	Cucumber	Watermelon
Tomato	Broccoli	Rockmelon
Corn	Pumpkin	Cauliflower
Parsley	Beans	Lucerne (dried or fresh)

Do Not Feed: Rhubarb, Deadly Night shade, Privet, Oleander, Onions, Sour Sobs, Bulbs of any kind, Onion Grass or Oxalis.

REMEMBER: If in doubt don't feed it.

A good diet will consist of dry food such as GRASS HAY, and a mix of CORN, OATS, BARLEY, SUNFLOWER SEED, LURCERNE CHAFF, OATEN, WHEATEN CHAFF, RABBIT/GUINEA PIG PELLETS.

Hay is an important part of the cavy's diet, this can also be used in their bedding and they also love to play and hide in it.

Cavies are clean animals and if you remove any uneaten food each day and feed greens in small amounts twice a day you will find that their cage is kept cleaner.
